Accompanying Statement explaining CPNI procedures

Dial Tone USA Inc. (Dialtone) has only business customers.

For business accounts, we require that an officer of the company sign a corporate resolution listing everyone who has permission to order service, make changes and receive information on that account. If someone calls in who is not listed on that corporate resolution, a new corporate resolution must be provided prior to the release of information or the fulfillment of any new order.

Dialtone receives very few requests for call records and releases call records only to an authorized account holder, an employee of a company who has been listed as authorized to make decisions regarding telecommunications service on a corporate resolution on file with this company or to a Subpoena from an official Court of Law.

Dialtone does not use CPNI in any sales or marketing campaign.

Dialtone does not share any CPNI with data brokers, affiliates or any other company or entity.
